Présentation

KPMG Luxembourg is part of the global network of professional services firms, with nearly 137,000 employees worldwide, providing Audit, Tax and Advisory services in 144 countries. The aim of KPMG International member firms is to turn knowledge into values for the benefit of our clients, people and the capital markets.

KPMG is active in Luxembourg since 1970. The remarkable growth of the firm during the ensuing period mirrors the development of our client base from small and medium sized businesses to a broader spectrum in which major national and international firms active in the financial, insurance and manufacturing sectors figure prominently.

KPMG in Luxembourg provides a full range of Audit, Tax and financial and business Advisory services. With more than 900 employees, KPMG in Luxembourg is one of the country's leading audit and advisory firms.

Métiers proposés

As a young professional with KPMG, you will be offered a variety of challenges and gain extensive experience working with a wide range of clients across diverse industries. We have a number of graduate opportunities available in our Audit, Tax and Advisory practices:

- Assistant Auditors (ref.: 0305)

- Tax Advisors (ref.: 0307)

- Junior Advisors (ref.: 0308)

- We offer traineeships in all our disciplines.

This is an ideal starting point for an exciting career with one of the world's leading professional services firm for candidates with a university degree in Economics, Finance, Accounting, Audit, Information Technology and Law.

We will provide you with hands-on experience as well as internal and external trainings to help you to discover and improve your skills. Our learning and development programs are tailored to the needs and ambitions of each individual, focusing on the specific areas within each division of the firm and on the industry specific areas available.

We will also actively support you in the preparation for professional qualifications to enable you to face new professional challenges and build a rewarding career.

We welcome candidates with a wide range of skills and abilities. As a result, we will not purely assess your application on the basis of your academic achievements. Instead, we place great importance on other aspects of your character, such as your interests, work experience, personal skills, abilities and your motivation. We are looking for team players who are innovative thinkers, people who enjoy the challenge of solving problems and who can effectively communicate their ideas. One of our main requirements is fluency in English, French and/or German (Luxembourgish will be considered an advantage).

If your profile fits any of the above opportunities, please visit our website and apply online with your CV and cover letter in English at www.kpmg.lu.
